

Part 3: Evaluating & Clarifying

This week we were encouraged to evaluate the issues through the lenses of Biblical Clarity and Practical Consequences. We were also reminded that each follower of Jesus is called to specific actions.

Discussion Questions:

Who do you seek when you need wise counsel?

What do you intentionally do or not do when you need peace and rest?

Why is it so difficult for us to turn to the Lord when we need answers and comfort?

Read Luke 14:25-27. How can these seemingly harsh words of Jesus be practically applied to our lives?

Our greatest love on Earth should look like hate compared to the love we have for Jesus Christ. It is easier for us to love those on Earth because we can feel them, hear them, and spend quality time with them. How can we do these same things with our Heavenly Father?

You can read a million books about Abraham Lincoln, but you will never meet him or have any kind of experience with him. However, when we open the Bible, we get to meet and have a real experience with its Author. How does this sit with you?

Many Christians aren't obeying the greatest commandment we are given: "Go out and make disciples." What holds you back from answering the call of the Great Commission?

We are called not to vote, but to glorify the Lord. Not to worry, doubt, or to stir the pot, but to glorify the Lord. Bringing Him glory looks different for different people and in different seasons. Colossians says "...all things were created through Him and for Him." Spend the next few minutes praying about how you can best bring glory to God where you are right now.

Pray also for whoever will be/has been elected, their family, their safety, and for whomever was not elected. Pray for our country as a whole and the role that God has given you to play within it.